Cómo usar esta guía

Lee la explicación y resuelve el ejemplo sin mirar. Luego contesta la alternativa y desarrolla la pregunta en el espacio disponible. Revisa las soluciones al final, corrige tu razonamiento y vuelve a intentar los ítems que fallaste.

Alineación y origen de los ejercicios

Los temas se seleccionaron a partir de las Bases y Programas del Currículum Nacional (Mineduc) para este curso. Las preguntas son originales, redactadas para Chile con el formato breve de selección múltiple y respuesta estructurada observado en los archivos de Cambridge IGCSE May/June 2026 (0511/21, 0500/12) aportados por el usuario. No son transcripciones de esas preguntas ni forman parte de una evaluación oficial.

Los textos y guiones breves se incluyen aquí. Para la práctica auditiva, otra persona debe leer el guion dos veces sin que el estudiante lo vea. La evaluación oral requiere interlocutor.

1. Reading an informational paragraph

Concepto. Skim for topic and purpose, then identify evidence for each answer. Distinguish a fact stated by the text from an opinion. When a pronoun appears, find its earlier referent before interpreting the sentence.

Ejemplo resuelto. “Our class planted native trees near the river. They provide shade and shelter for birds.” “They” refers to trees.

1.1 In the paragraph, “They” refers to... [1]

A birds

B trees

C rivers

D classes

1.2 Give one stated benefit of the trees and one question the paragraph does not answer. [2]

2. Listening: reason and contrast

Concepto. Listen for signals such as “however”, “because” and “instead”. A repeated word in an option can be misleading; choose the idea actually expressed. Read the short script twice with a partner and compare notes after the second hearing.

Ejemplo resuelto. For example, “We planned Tuesday, but now it is Wednesday” signals that Wednesday is the final plan. Listen for the change without reading the teacher script.

2.1 Why did the speaker take the bus? [1]

A The bicycle broke

B It rained

C They were late

D The road was closed

2.2 Write the intended transport, actual transport and reason, using “because” in a single sentence. [2]

3. Writing: short article with advice

Concepto. An article needs an opening that identifies its topic, two developed points and a closing recommendation. Use modal verbs accurately: “should” offers advice; “must” states a strong requirement. Give examples rather than repeating a general claim.

Ejemplo resuelto. “Students should carry a reusable bottle because it reduces disposable plastic at school.”

3.1 Which modal gives advice? [1]

A should

B did

C was

D had

3.2 Write 70–90 words for the school website with two practical ways to save water and a closing recommendation. [6]

4. Speaking: comparing options

Concepto. State a preference, give a reason and acknowledge one advantage of the other option.

Comparatives compare two alternatives; support opinions with examples. Respond to a partner by asking for clarification or building on an idea.

Ejemplo resuelto. "Taking the bus is cheaper than a taxi; however, walking is better for a short trip."

4.1 Choose a correct comparison. [1]

A more cheaper

B cheapest than

C cheaper than

D cheap than

4.2 Compare studying alone and with a group in four sentences; give your view, two reasons and a question to a partner. [3]

Solucionario y criterios

La respuesta de desarrollo muestra una solución modelo; se aceptan formulaciones científicas o matemáticas equivalentes que justifiquen el procedimiento. En Inglés, la producción abierta admite respuestas diversas que cumplan los criterios.

1. Reading an informational paragraph

1.1 [1 punto]: B. B trees

1.2 [2 puntos]: Shade or shelter for birds; for example, it does not say how many trees were planted.

2. Listening: reason and contrast

2.1 [1 punto]: B. B It rained

2.2 [2 puntos]: The speaker took the bus instead of cycling because it rained.

3. Writing: short article with advice

3.1 [1 punto]: A. A should

3.2 [6 puntos] (contenido 3; organización y lengua 3): Accept two different practical ideas, each explained, logical paragraphs, suitable school audience and 70–90 words.

4. Speaking: comparing options

4.1 [1 punto]: C. C cheaper than

4.2 [3 puntos]: Accept a clear choice, two connected reasons and a relevant follow-up question; use at least one accurate comparative.

Guion de audio para quien lee

Mantener esta sección cubierta durante el ejercicio. Leer dos veces a ritmo natural y pausar antes de que el estudiante responda.

I wanted to cycle, but it rained, so I took the bus.
